

A remarkable night photograph of the American Falls at Niagara, bathed in the great flood-lights of electricity and softened by the moon's glow, that lends a new dignity to America's most spectacular scene.
Roy W. Whitehouse.

Four generations in a prominent English family—a charming photo of Lord Henry Nevill; his daughter, the Marchioness Camden; the Earl of Brecknock, son of the Marchioness, and Lady Mary Pratt, daughter of the Earl.
Soclight.

Tugs and tugs—tugging at the steamship France to get her into her berth because of a strong tide. Thirteen in all were required, nearly three times as many as usual, Pacific and Atlantic.

First principles in team work—lining up for play. Only these little pups are too small to handle the ball. The fellow in the rear is about to call the signals.
Wide World.

Prince Leopold of Belgium (on the left of the rear line) is an enthusiastic football player and is a member of the team of the Brussels Military School.
Central News.

A portrait of A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., by Roland Hinton Perry, recently exhibited at the Ehrich Galleries.
Juley.